WHAT'S NEW THIS YEAR?

This year there is a national contest in addition to the Idaho contest. We will send all first place winners' entries to the national contest, and let you know if you win. Also, you can enter your story online. You will be given free access to a link to send to your family and friends, and you can order a hardbound copy of your story.

DO I NEED TO BIND MY STORY?

We will accept your story whether it is bound or not. However, please consider ease of mailing and photocopying when finishing your story.

WHERE DO I MAIL MY ENTRY?

If you are mailing via the Postal Service, mail to:
Idaho Public Television
PBS Kids Go! Writers Contest

WHAT HAPPENS IF I WIN?

Winners are treated to an award ceremony where they will be honored for their achievements, complete with a Powerpoint presentation of their story for the audience. Children are encouraged to invite their family, friends and neighbors to the event.

WILL MY STORY BE RETURNED TO ME?

For individual or family entries: All entries that have a self addressed, stamped envelope included will be returned, along with a Certificate of Participation. We suggest that the envelope be 9"x12" or larger (to accommodate the certificate) with a minimum of $0.90 postage for 1 oz. Other rates can be found at www.usps.com. We can put multiple entries in one return envelope, just be sure to let us know which ones go together.

For school entries: We will return school entries if you include postage or make other arrangements with us. Consider including a mailing label with appropriate postage for a flat rate box from the Postal Service www.usps.com/prices/priority-mail-prices.htm or UPS www.ups.com/flatratebox. Contact our office with any questions you may have.

WHEN WILL MY ENTRY BE RETURNED?

All returnable entries will be mailed by May 31, 2012.
